

$1,600 for Playground Is Pledged

A proposal by the Parks and Recreation Department to install a Tiny Tot playground area at Fair Park has been well-received by several civic groups and one half of the total cost of the $1600 project has already been pledged by the governing boards of the Hope Lions Club and the Hope Jaycees upon final approval by the Clubs' entire membership.

The area would be designed primarily for pre-school and lower grade school children and would be located directly in the center of the picnic areas at the Park, in the area previously used for miniature golf. The play equipment would all be located in plain sight of any family picnicking group in any existing picnic area and would be completely fenced by a 4-foot chain link fence with the entrance about where the old boy scout cabin chimney now stands, a maximum distance from the road on each side. This would allow families with small children to picnic in complete confidence that their children were playing in a safe area on equipment designed from a safety standpoint for smaller children.

The fence would be decorated with cut-outs of various animal characters made of marine plywood and covered with fibreglass. All playground equipment would be candy striped or gaily colored to attract the little folks. Proposed pieces of equipment include, a Jack and Jill Playhouse with slides, stairs, jungle jim and playhouse area, an elephant slide, simulating an actual Elephant, Donald Duck and Kindergarten swing, miniature pony swings, a merry flyer merry go round and fibre-glass bouncing horses. The entrance will consist of two curved candy striped poles supporting a Kiddie Korral sign.

Since this project is very badly needed in the very near future and would greatly add to family group pleasure and attendance at the Park, all civic groups interested in helping support the installation of this area are urged to join with the Lions and Jaycees to expedite the completion of the project this spring.

A rough sketch of the proposed layout and the equipment to be used will be in the window of Roy Anderson Ins. Agency for the public to see.

Any civic group or individual, not already contacted, that is interested in supporting this endeavor should contact Charles Gough or George Frazier immediately as equipment displayed at the annual Parks and Recreation Convention in Tulsa, Okla., next week may be purchased at a discount and involve a substantial savings.

Rains Push State Rivers Over Banks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy general rains pushed the Ouachita River 4.3 feet over flood stage at Camden today and the U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock predicted a crest 11 to 12 feet above flood stage next Tuesday. Little damage was expected.

The Ouachita is the only large river in danger of major flooding, the Weather Bureau said, although the White River is over flood stage at Calarendon and many smaller streams are out of their banks.

The river gauge at Camden read 30.3 feet today, up 2.4 feet in the past 24 hours. Flood stage is 26 feet. The 37-38 crest forecast is tentative, the Weather Bureau said, because reports from dams on the upper Ouachita are incomplete.

Camden sources said there would be little flood damage, even if the river reaches 38 feet.

Camden sits on a high bluff and the city proper is not subject to flood. When the Ouachita floods, it spills over into bottomlands, mostly uninhabited. Some of the land is used for crops or grazing of livestock, but cattle owners have had ample warning to get their stock to higher ground.

A flood stage of 38 feet will spread the river 5 to 15 miles through underbrush and timberland, however.

At Arkadelphia, upstream from Camden, the Ouachita rose 5.8 feet in 24 hours to hit 21.8 feet with a flood stage of 17. A crest of 24 feet is expected at Arkadelphia today.

The White rose only .3 foot at Clarendon in 24 hours and stood 1.6 above the flood stage of 26 feet. A crest of 28-29 feet is expected April 6.

Up the White, Augusta showed 30.8 feet today and the crest of 32 feet, even with flood stage, is expected Sunday. Newport reported 19.1 feet today, well below flood stage of 26 feet.

Readings on the Arkansas River were well below flood stage and no major rise is expected.

The entire state got rain Thursday and Thursday night and showers are forecast until late today. Rainfall has been heavier in the central and south sections.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today in clude: Pine Bluff 2.47 inches, Fayetteville .75, Little Rock 1.77, Fort Smith .90, Memphis 1.14, Walnut Ridge 1.04, El Dorado .78, Texarkana 1.10 and Elippan .72.

$8 Million Plane Disintegrates

LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP) — An $8-million dollar B52G jet bomber failed in an aerial refueling rendezvous and apparently disintegrated in flight near here Thursday night.

Two of the eight-man crew parachuted safely, two were killed and four are missing.

The big ship developed trouble during a rendezvous with a tanker plane at more than 30,000 feet.

The crew members who parachuted safely are Maj. W. F. Minnieh, 40, of Des Plaines, Ill., and 1st Lt. G. C. Farnham, 26, of Loveland, Colo.

Methodists to Organize 2nd Church

A revival meeting is planned April 2-7, Sunday through Friday, at the WOW Hall. Services will be held nightly at 7:30 with the Rev. Harold Davis, pastor of Stamps Methodist Church in charge.

The services are sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Hope. It is expected that this shall be the beginning of a new Methodist Church to be organized here, a need recognized for several years.

Everybody is invited to share in this revival and assist in the organization. Dr. Robert Moore Sr. is district supt. of the Hope District and Rev. Rufus Sorrells is pastor of the First Church. There will be no services at the First Church Sunday night, April 2.

Camden sources said there would be little flood damage, even if the river reaches 38 feet.

Hope Band Is Outstanding at Festival

At the district band festival last week the Hope High Band qualified 103 members for state competition, won 40 first places and Director Jon Barbarotto, was named to conduct the Gold Band at the Dixie Music Camp this summer.

Mr. Barbarotto is filling a vacancy created with the retirement from the band field of Tommy Kinser. The appointment also means there will be two Dixie Music Camp Scholarships awarded to the local band.

Comments by judges indicated unanimous agreement that this is the best concert band in Hope High history and by far the best record of accomplishments.

Receiving first division in solos were Martha Allison, Ricky Stone, Sharon Faris, Paula Sprinkle; in ensemble were Sara Gordon, Perisella Knighton and Julianna Fenwick. These students each received a metal and also compete at state.

The following students in the junior band made a second division and will compete at state: Gary Rogers, Gary Jones, Tony Smith, Leland Lavender, Gary Russell, Wayne Fowler, Fred McCulley, Carol Cranford, Cynthia Collier, Amelia Gaines, Perisella Knighton, Ann Walton, Julianna Fenwick, and Sara Gordon.

Mary Alice Motes, Lolly Prather, Sonya Yasley, Tommy Hollis, David Chism, Hugh Barwick, Joel Rogers, Richard Lockard, Jimmy McGuire, Lolly Prather, Paddy Davis, Pat Rogers, Hugh Barwick, Ruth Ann Mohon;

Millie Flowers, Sharon Faris, Cynthia Collier, David Chism, Joe Keesey, Larry Lindsey, Freddy Fuller, Bobby Mitchell, Brenda Barentine, Brenda Deloney, Cynthia Collier and Paddy Davis. Each of these students received a medal for each time their name appears in the above story.

U. S. to Probe Group Fighting Communism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Criticism in Congress and elsewhere of the John Birch Society brought a cry today from a member—who also sits in Congress—that Communists are promoting a smear of the ultrarightist organization.

Even as a Justice Department spokesman said the society's activities are a matter of concern there, Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, R-Calif., called a news conference. "My advice is for people not to sound off before they have all the facts," he said.

Before talking with reporters, Hiestand, who disclosed earlier his affiliation with the society, had a telephone conversation with its founder, Robert H. Welch Jr., of Belmont, Mass.

Welch is a retired candy maker who founded the society in 1948. His personal targets include former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Chief Justice Earl Warren. Welch has called Eisenhower a Red and says Warren should be impeached.

Hiestand said he did not agree with Welch as to Eisenhower or Warren. But, he said, the remarks about Eisenhower had "been made several years ago and were taken out of context" by those now quoting them.

Hiestand said there were also other society policy statements he disagreed with.

"I choose to stay because the society as a whole is a 98 per cent dedicated anti-Communist group. To me it would seem to have a better chance of a successful achievement than any of the other sound and fine patriotic groups of which I know," Hiestand said.

Hiestand, when disclosing his own membership Thursday, had said there were other members of Congress in the society but did not name them.

Today, he named Rep. John Roussetot, R-Calif., as another member of Congress active in the society and said "I am quite sure there are others."

In response to questions, Hiestand said of the society:

"It doesn't know how many members or chapters it has now, but the goal is 100,000 members."

UN Presses to End Meet by April 21

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly pressed today to end its cleanup session by April 21 after Soviet-American agreement to shelve debate on disarmament cleared the main obstacle to early adjournment.

The Assembly still faced a heavy schedule bristling with cold war items.

But informed sources said the 99-nation assembly probably would speed things up by limiting itself to symbolic debate on such topics as Hungary, Tibet, the future of divided Korea and Soviet charges against U.S. reconnaissance flights.

Other main agenda items to be disposed of are the Congo question, on which debate still has several days to go, Portugal's administration of her African territory of Angola and Cuba's charges that the United States plans aggression against Fidel Castro's regime.

The Cuban item had been expected to generate considerable heat, but present indications are that the Soviet bloc will not take a very active role in the debate.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is scheduled to leave for Moscow tonight, apparently feeling nothing left on the docket is important enough to hold him in New York.

Gromyko and the chief U.S. delegate, Adlai E. Stevenson, jointly introduced a resolution Thursday calling on the assembly to take up disarmament "and all pending proposals relating to it" at the 16th assembly starting Sept. 19. The proposal is certain to win quick ratification in the assembly.

Stevenson and Gromyko said their governments had agreed to continue discussions to set the time and place for new arms negotiations and the makeup of the negotiating committee. The talks are expected to start in Geneva about July 31.

The agreement to delay assembly disarmament debate was the fruit of dogged efforts by Stevenson to gain time for the Kennedy administration to formulate its disarmament policy.

Children's Colony Board Asks Meet

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Children's Colony board will try to meet Monday with Gov. Orval E. Faubus to determine how suspension of state construction projects will affect the colony, Supt. David Ray said today.

A $785,000 building project at the colony was one of a number of construction jobs halted by the governor's order Thursday. The Colony also faces temporary loss of a $50,000 appropriation contained in the omnibus bill.

Faubus suspended state construction because the omnibus bill has been attacked in court. He said 40 children at the colony would have to be sent home because of loss of the $50,000.

Ray said the colony would not know exactly where it stands until after the board has met with the governor.

Rusk Terms Meeting 'Productive'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today returned from what he called a "highly productive" SEATO meeting on the Laos crisis and immediately prepared to report to President Kennedy.

Rusk's jet plane touched down at noon, completing a round-the-world flight during which Rusk attended a three day meeting of Southeast Asia Treaty Organization foreign ministers at Bangkok, Thailand, and conferred with Prime Minister Nehru in India.

The secretary of state arranged to report to Kennedy by telephone from the State Department. The President is on an Easter vacation in Palm Beach, Fla.

Rusk declined to say whether or not he is optimistic about the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the troubles in strife-ridden Laos.

He noted that the Russians have not yet replied to a British peace plan proposal.

"The important thing to have in Laos, he said, is a cessation of hostilities, whether or not under a formally proclaimed ceasefire, so that the negotiations for a peaceful solution can get under way."

In advance of Rusk's arrival, high official sources said this country's standing firm on its condition that a halt in the shooting must precede any international conference.

Against Help

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Board of Parish Education of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod has issued a statement saying it opposes use of federal funds to assist church schools, pay teacher salaries, build facilities or buy equipment.

The board said Thursday: "Any government that allocates funds must therefore concern itself with the use of these funds and most control their use."

Legislator Says Faubus' Tactics 'Cruel, Inhuman'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus tactics were described as cruel, inhuman and savage by Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell Thursday in the wake of the governor's order suspending all state construction projects.

Faubus took the surprise step earlier Thursday, blaming the move on a court suit filed by Cottrell against the $17 million omnibus bill passed by the 1961 General Assembly.

The action also brought retorts from Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association whom Faubus accused of instigating the suit, and Eugene Warren, attorney for both Cottrell and the AEA.

Faubus' order halted work on a $785,000 project at the Children's Colony, finishing work on the State Hospital's $800,000 maximum security building and work on seven National Guard Armories around the state.

The governor also said that 40 children now enrolled in the Children's Colony would have to be sent home because a $50,000 appropriation to pay for their care is tied up in the omnibus bill.

Faubus' emphasis on suspension of Children's Colony projects led Cottrell to remark, "It is a cruel and inhuman thing for Gov. Faubus to use the little retarded children at the Children's Colony to screen his assault on the safeguards of the Arkansas constitution. The statement discloses the savagery with which he and his political advisors play politics with the unfortunate people of this state."

Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr., also of Pulaski County, telegraphed Faubus suggesting the governor use some of his $100,000 emergency fund to keep the children at the colony.

Cottrell's suit contends the omnibus bill is unconstitutional because it appropriates money for a variety of subjects in one bill.

All the suspended construction projects were authorized in a 1959 construction bill which expires Sunday. The new omnibus bill reappropriated the money. Faubus said his fiscal officials did not think they should spend this money while the bill is under court attack.

Rozzell denied any link with Cottrell. He said the AEA had been planning a court attack on the bill but dropped the idea when Cottrell filed his suit. "I don't see why anyone should be criticized for asking the court to decide constitutionality of a bill," Rozzell said. "That's the democratic process."

Cottrell said he filed the suit "to compel Gov. Faubus to recognize and comply with the constitution and comply with the constitution."

LINK TO POTENTIAL betterment for untold thousands in Thailand is Oliver Gordon Young, 33, above. As consultant for U.S. International Cooperation Administration and the Thai government, his job will be to forge understanding with hill tribes, who need agricultural know-how to improve their lives. Born in China of a missionary family, Stateside-educated Young's family home is at Chiangmai, Thailand. Years spent in contact with tribes, both with his father and as a hunter, gives him unique advantages.

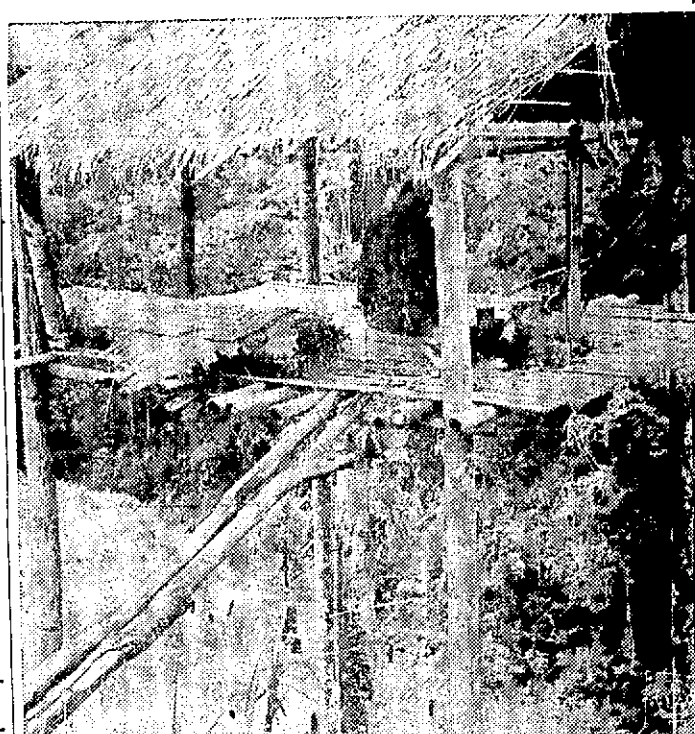

OLD WOMAN of village on Burmese border may live to see her children reap the harvest of Young's future efforts. Tribes plead for benefits enjoyed by other Thais.

THE PEOPLE: Young has gained confidence of tribesmen such as the Lishaw man, above. He's taught them soil conservation and has brought material aid to many persons.

HARVEST of Young's efforts for this Mussuh woman shown winning rice, and for all the hill tribes, could be significant strengthening of Thailand's frontier against Reds.

FIELD HUT for man of the Mussuh tribe is on raised poles to foil animal marauders, and indicates primitive conditions under which many live. As consultant for ICA and the Thai government, Young's first task will be to collect basic information on the hill tribes. Next step is for ICA and the government to translate information into an active program.

Many Cities Plan Sunrise Services

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Holy Week drew near a close this rainy Good Friday with Arkansas Christians of all denominations preparing for special services on Easter Sunday.

For many the Easter Day observance will start with sunrise services.

Even earlier Roman Catholic churches will mark the advent of the day with midnight mass.

Most of the sunrise services are planned for out-of-doors unless the weather should be too bad, and many of them are community or interdenominational observances.

They will be held in a wide variety of settings — on mountain tops, on lakeshores, outside public buildings, in drive-in theaters, at military installations and elsewhere.

The best known, and probably the oldest, is the 35-minute service scheduled to be held on top of Hot Springs Mountain beginning at 5:55 a.m. Sunday.

The Hot Springs Choral Club is bringing the service to Hot Springs residents and to visitors at the resort for the 27th year.

The annual sunrise service on the steps of the State Capitol at Little Rock is marking its 24th year. It was started by the late Secretary of State C. G. Hall and is being continued this year by Mrs. Hall, who was appointed to succeed him as secretary of state.

A sunrise service will be held on the shore of Lake Fort Smith near Fort Smith; Blytheville will hold one at the Blytheville Air Force Base; Hope will have one at the high school football stadium.

Arkadelphia, on the Ouachita Baptist campus overlooking the Ouachita River; Stuttgart will have one service inside and another at a drive-in theater; Conway, like Hot Springs, will have an outdoor service on a hilltop.

Department Store Sales Dip Some

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended March 25 were two per cent below those of the comparable week in 1935.

Sales fell in every reporting center except Louisville, which marked an increase of eight per cent.

St. Louis was down four per cent, Memphis and Little Rock both dropped three per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities fell four per cent.

Sales for the four-week period ended March 25 were 17 per cent above those of the like period last year.

Sales for the year to date were four per cent above those of the same time last year.

Quads Take Their First Food Today

By JAMES CALOGERO

HOIYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Four normal, healthy quadruplets had their first food today—glucose in water—23 hours after their births.

All four youngsters born Wednesday to Mrs. Mary Fevre registered slight weight losses which are normal at the beginning of a new baby's life. As is common in multiple births, they arrived prematurely—seven weeks ahead of time.

Providence Hospital authorities said the two boys and two girls took their first food well, that their condition is excellent, and that they will have more glucose and water before being given a formula.

Flowers, congratulations and gifts were arriving today for the petite 35-year-old mother, who already had six children. She said, "We love children but we didn't really expect so many at one time."

A wheel chair and elevator ride to see her quadruplets were on the mother's program today.

Mrs. Fevre beamed Wednesday night when told she had given birth to quadruplets, not triplets, as had been expected.

"I still can't believe it," she said. "I feel that when I wake up, I'll discover it was all a dream."

Naggins Wife Drove Him Into Another's Arms

By HELEN WORDEN-ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

My wife wrote you last fall about me and another woman. She was jealous without cause. Until she accused me of two things I never gave this woman a second thought. It took my wife's shabby treatment of her to open my eyes. This girl is everything I want: kind, good and wonderful with her children. My wife is a nagger and though 20 pounds lighter, still sloppy looking. It takes all my will power to keep from begging this other woman to marry me. The one time I raised the question she sent me back to my wife. You told my wife what to do. Please tell me how to forget this girl. Do you think divorce the right way out?

—Lonely Husband

Dear Lonely Husband: Divorce is a last resort. Have you any children? Could you support two families? Would the other woman marry you? And, last but far from least, how about your wife? Her jealousy and the loss of those 20 pounds proves she still loves you. Happiness gained at the cost of another's grief is short-lived. Difficult though it will be, have a heart-to-heart talk with your wife. Explain that her nagging and sloppy looks are killing any love you had for her. Suggest a six-months trial reform period. If, at the end of that time she hasn't changed, send me the answer to the above questions and we'll tackle the problem from another angle.

Dear Helen:

I am 18 and a college student. My boy friend is 20. We've been going together two and a half years. I know most of his family. A cousin to whom he is very close, is to be married this spring. He will probably be best man. I don't know this couple well but I do know the parents of the groom and the rest of the family. They have not invited me to the wedding or reception and, as a consequence, I feel hurt, especially since they all expect us to marry eventually. Is this right?

—M.

Dear M.: The ways of in-laws, even prospective ones, are beyond comprehension. The kind and natural and therefore proper thing to do would have been to invite you to the wedding and reception. They may have a last-minute change of heart. If they don't, say nothing. It is they, not you who are in the wrong. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Ten Rules for Happiness."

Dear Helen:

I'm having a problem with a new neighbor—a very lonely girl. In an effort to keep her I've and merchandise out of base-

Cedar Rapids Confident of Beating Flood

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—A general feeling of confidence pervaded Cedar Rapids, Iowa's second largest city, today as a record flood swept down the Cedar River valley toward it.

The rampaging river tossed a multimillion-dollar punch at Waterloo, 67 miles northwest of here, Wednesday. Officials said that industrial city said it would take weeks to clean up the mess.

Cedar Rapids officials admitted, however, they didn't know what to expect when the floodwaters strike.

A 22.5-foot crest was forecast by the Weather Bureau to reach here Friday morning—well over the record 20.01 flood peak of 1929.

However, this will be the first maximum flood test of a dike system constructed since 1929.

Cedar Rapids, population 92,035, now is protected by a seawall through the business district and a 1 1/2-mile levee extending from it to guard the Northwest Side. Construction of three additional dikes was planned to help hold out the river.

Officials believe 1,500 persons will have to be evacuated from their homes. Business firms along the river were moving equipment

U. S. to Probe
this year.
He has been "informed" there are several society chapters in Washington, but doesn't "know the facts" as to that; and
The society is not a secret one but the identity of members is kept confidential to protect them from "persecution and attack."
Hiestand said he belongs to the "home" chapter of the society which he described as a nationwide chapter directly under Welch. He referred to Welch as "the founder" in all references to him during the news conference.
Hiestand described the society members as "violent, emphatic, dedicated anti-Communists" but contended that not more than two per cent "might be considered extremists."
He said growing criticism of the group by newspapers and public figures was part of a "pro-Communist smear" and was proof of the society's success in fighting communism.
In response to a question, he said he was unable to identify any Communists among those who were criticizing the society.
"But they are in the background of the smear," he added.
Hiestand said the major aim of the society is to spread information about the Communist conspiracy, through letters to congressmen and other methods.
A number of members of Congress have urged investigations of the Birch Society's activities. There have been attacks on some members of Congress, carried out chiefly through letters to other organizations and individuals.
The statement that the group's activities are a matter of concern to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was made by the Justice Department spokesman in response to an inquiry as to whether the department planned any action. He would not elaborate and there was no direct statement from Kennedy.
FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover spoke out today against "reckless charges" and "vigilante action" in a signed editorial in the FBI law enforcement bulletin.
Hoover did not mention the John Birch Society, and FBI spokesmen declined comment on whether the society was an intended target.
Hoover wrote: "The job of curtailing and containing communism is one for legally constituted authorities with the steadfast cooperation of every loyal citizen."
"This is neither the time for inaction nor vigilante action."
"Attributing every adversity to communism is not only irrational, but contributes to hysteria and fosters groundless fears."

The Birch society was founded in 1948 by Welch, a retired candy manufacturer from Belmont, Mass. It has active chapters in almost every part of the country. The society is named for a Baptist missionary who served as an Army intelligence officer in the Far East in World War II. The society says Birch was killed by Chinese Communists 10 days after the end of the war.
Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., told a reporter he would ask the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to investigate the society and its leaders. Dodd joined Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., in denouncing the organization Thursday in the Senate.

Perceful was a passenger in the car driven by Holliday, officers said. He was a veteran of World War II and had been awarded the purple heart seven times.
He died shortly after being admitted to a Fort Smith hospital. Perceful had served for six years with the 45th Infantry Division and had participated in seven battles.

Turkey to Buy Rice From U. S.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Thursday Turkey has signed an agreement to take 10,000 tons of surplus U.S. rice.
The rice is valued at $1 million, the department told Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark.
Under law, the United States may dispose of surplus farm commodities to foreign governments in exchange for foreign currencies which then are used to finance various U.S. operations in those countries.

NIGHT MARSHAL
Chapter XXIII
Half an hour later, Frank Scorbie rode away from Midas Hill along a trail which led south through a broken country of wash and ravine and irregular rims. Past midday he came upon the meager weatherbeaten buildings of Gold Run clustered in a flat at the mouth of a wash that narrowly broke from the mountain face and let out some small creek waters.
Two different men showed at the doors of cabins at Scorbie's approach, then as quickly drift from sight. Presently the door was filled by another man.
Filled literally. He who occupied it was enormously larded with fat. Fat which made misshapen, padded mounds of his shoulders, and his torso a gross, big-bellied mass. In a pear shaped heavily jowled face his eyes were small and slyly secretive. His lips were heavy, the lower one drooping. Coarse, sparse hair, pale as straw, stubbled his head.
Motionless he stood and motionless he watched as Scorbie halted up and dismounted, stiff from unaccustomed miles in the saddle. Scorbie's glance roved for a moment before settling on the fat man.
"Where'll I find Urbine?"
"I'm Urbine." The answer came in words that were moist and slow and breathy. "You'll find Scorbie. Been expectin' you." The fat man turned his head slightly and lifted his thick voice. "Spoke!"
A man showed at the corner of the building.

"Take care of the horse," Urbine ordered.
Spoke led the animal away and Scorbie followed Urbine inside. The room was full of shadows. It held a short bar, a single poke table and some shelves piled with varied food supplies. At one end of the bar a narrow stairway led upwards. Urbine indicated this. "First room at the top on the right should do you."

"You must have given Scorbie ideas. Only he'll be gone longer than you were."
There was the touch of a faint but pungent sarcasm in the remark Tim Roach made as he took over the rein of the grubby, brone Chris Waddell had been riding.
Chris Waddell stared. "Given Scorbie ideas? He'll be gone longer than I was? I can't quite see that, don't you?"
The corral owner shrugged. "After you left this mornin', Scorbie hauled out, too."
"For good?" demanded Waddell.
Tim Roach snorted. "Not if he knows what's good for him. I only rented him that brone. I didn't sell it to him. No, he said he'd be gone 10 days or so."

"Where to?"
"He didn't say. And not fidgetin' in it as any of my business. I didn't ask." Roach gave Waddell a narrowed, slanting glance. "Sort of leaves all the law up to you for a time, doesn't it?"
"Sort of!" closed out Waddell. He went directly to the office. The bunk was made up and the floor swept after a fashion. Waddell went out front again.
He sat down at the desk and began going through it on the hope of finding some clue as to why and where.

He had no luck. The drawers were an untidy hodge-podge of this and that. A clutter of reward doggers, most of them old, one or two fairly new. A saddle and boot catalogue, cartridges and a crushed cigar.
Waddell twisted up and lit a cigarette and peered speculatively through the pale smoke. According to Tim Roach, Frank Scorbie intended to be gone 10 days or thereabouts. Neither by attitude or words had Roach even hinted that this sort of thing was something Scorbie did regularly, or for that matter, had ever done before. So—why now?

He was still turning this question over in his mind without coming up with any good answer, when Jack Millerson turned in through the door. The store owner was brusque.
"Been doing a little checking up," he announced bluntly. "You're right. There's a hole in my cash drawer that's leaking money."

"So-so?" murmured Waddell.
"Yes," said Millerson. "I'm now sure how much has leaked. Books, I know, are right. Normaling to be sure some has. My books, I know, are right. Normaling Vespaian handles them."

"Me," said Waddell slowly. "I don't know much of anything about how to run a store. But in your place I'd keep an eye on the cash drawer."

"My own thought," growled Millerson. He took a turn up and down the room. "Waddell, I'm going to have to close in on somebody I've trusted. And it isn't a pleasant thing to consider."

"I can see where it wouldn't be," Waddell agreed.
"I'm going to make certain—dead certain before I act."
"Of course," Waddell nodded. Millerson paused in his pacing. (To Be Continued)

Collision Leaves 1 Dead, 4 Hurt
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — One man was killed and four persons were injured in a two-car collision on U.S. Highway 65 Thursday in Oklahoma, about five miles west of Fort Smith.
Oklahoma State Police said Clifford Perceful, 48, of Moffatt, Okla., was killed. The injured were identified as Travis Greening, 25, of Camden, Ark., his wife, Linda, 21, their son, Gordon, 4, and W.O. Holliday, 58 of Fort Smith.
Perceful was a passenger in the car driven by Holliday, officers said. He was a veteran of World War II and had been awarded the purple heart seven times.
He died shortly after being admitted to a Fort Smith hospital. Perceful had served for six years with the 45th Infantry Division and had participated in seven battles.

Oklahoma Is Favorite in State Relays

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Oklahoma is expected to capture most of the gold medals in Saturday's 10th annual Arkansas Relays. And Sooner pole vaulter J.D. Martin is being watched for a world record performance.

Martin vaulted 15 feet 9 1/2 inches last year, but it wasn't allowed as a world record because of an illegal placement of the bar. This year he has shown signs of reaching that mark again, and stiff competition might push him over in this meet.

Oklahoma State's George Davies has cleared 15 feet 4 inches and Purdue's Mike Johnson has a 14 foot 10 high mark.

To team totals will be kept, but of the 10 schools, the Sooners are considered to have the most depth. The others are Illinois, Purdue, Oklahoma State, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas State, Wichita, Pittsburg State (Kan.) and Arkansas.

Sammy Pegues of Oklahoma State and Armand LeCone of Illinois are expected to duel in the high jump. Pegues has reached 6 feet 6 1/2 inches and Crone has jumped 6-6.

One of Arkansas' top hopes is Lance Alworth, the great football halfback who also plays baseball and is a track sprinter. He has been recuperating from a shoulder operation but should be ready for full spring duty Saturday.

The two mile run draws some fine distance men. These include George Harvey of Purdue (9:07.3) Jim Peterson of Illinois (9:22) and Jackie Nelson of Arkansas (9:18.3).

Several met records are in danger. Oklahoma's Mike Lindsay and Dick Cochran of Missouri are two of the top names in that event.

Another May Enter Congress Race

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — James F. Cross, 28-year-old Pine Bluff cotton broker, says he may enter the 6th District congressional race.

Residents of the district will vote April 18 on a successor to Rep. W. F. Norrell of Monticello, who died in February.

So far Mrs. Norrell and Sam D. Carson of Benton have qualified as candidates.

Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis Jr. of Hot Springs and John H. Jones of Pine Bluff have announced they also will make the race.

OUTSIDE AND OUT—Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees reaches for an outside pitch and pops up in an exhibition game with the Dodgers at Al Lang Field in St. Petersburg, Fla. Pitching for Los Angeles is Phil Ortega, $65,000 bonus recruit. Ump is Charley Berry.

Two Events and Two New Records

By LOU BLACK

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Two events and two records, that's the sizzling pace being set so far in the National Amateur Athletic Union indoor swimming and diving championships.

Capt. Charley Bittick and Murray Rose, the Southern California water whizzes, got the three-day classic off Thursday night as if they were being shot out of jet engines.

Bittick, 21, cracked the American standard, in the 400-yard individual medley race with a brilliant 4:23.7, shaving nearly five seconds off the mark recorded in Yale's 25 yard pool here last year by Stanford's George Harrison.

Bittick beat Ted Stickle, Indiana freshman, by about five yards as both finished under the listed standard. Stickle was clocked in 4:26.9.

Australian Olympic champion Rose broke the meet record in the 1500-meter grind held in Yale's 50-meter tank. Rose, 22, touched the finish line in 17:43.7, chopping better than 17 seconds off the 18:00.8 which George Breen registered over the long course a year ago.

Rose won by 15 meters over Alan Somers of Indiana, who barely finished in front of Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif.

Today both Rose and Bittick shoot for a second crown in determined battles for triples. The Australian makes his bid in the 220-yard sprint and Bittick in the 220-yard breaststroke.

In other highlights, Olympic champion Mike Troy of Indiana is favored to retain his 220-yard butterfly title, against Southern California's Lance Larson; and defending champion Bill Mulliken of Oxford, Ohio, faces danger in the 220-yard breaststroke.

Silents in Nat'l Cage Tournament

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pittsburgh meets Chicago and Little Rock takes on Washington, D.C., tonight in the semifinals of the 17th National American Athletic Association of the Deaf basketball tournament.

Finals are carried Saturday night. The winner will compete in the Deaf Olympics at Helsinki, Finland, Aug. 6-10. Little Rock won the tournament in 1957 and is defending champion.

Top-seeded Pittsburgh beat Dallas 83-61 in first round play Thursday night. Chicago beat Los Angeles 71-58, Washington beat Council Bluffs, Iowa, 70-57 and Little Rock bombed Oakland, Calif., 96-63.

In consolation bracket games tonight, Dallas meets Los Angeles and Council Bluffs takes on Oakland.

Iowa City Threatened by Floods

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Iowa's second largest city was riding out one of its worst floods in history today in a state of tense apprehension.

At emergency headquarters at City Hall came a jittery short-wave report at midnight that the rampaging Cedar River which had struck a multi-million dollar blow at Waterloo 75 miles upstream was breaching the dike above the dam.

Fire chief Jess Hunter dispatched two rigs to the site.

"It was only some seepage through the sandbags," the chief said. "The men shored up the weak spot. I guess it's easy to become alarmed."

"We had eight jeeps with radios patrolling the seawall and the dikes. They reported back all were holding."

About that hour the river had risen to about 18.50 feet or 5 feet above flood stage. Two days ago a crest of 22.5 feet had been predicted, well over the disastrous 20 foot stage of 1929 before the flood protection works were erected.

"It now looks as if the river may not hit 20 feet," said Mayor James Meaghan, who was directing operations.

But with about 2,500 persons forced out of their homes in low areas and with the river boiling against the six downtown bridges that span the east and west sides of the city the mayor said the danger would not be over until the swollen stream returns to its banks.

While Cedar Rapids was going through one of its most trying times, about 6,000 persons who had been forced from their homes at Waterloo were undertaking the job of digging their homes out of the mud.

The river had gone out of its banks last Monday with the runoff from snow and heavy rain.

Mayor Meaghan said the earlier prediction of a 22.5 flood crest was based on readings in the 1929 flood but officials of the U. S. Geological Survey revised the crest downward on discovering that previous flood control work that removed two feet of silt from the river.

"The work of the river front commission has saved us millions of dollars," the mayor said.

The Cedar River is expected to flatten out after leaving Cedar Rapids and there are no more big towns on the rest of its way into the Mississippi.

Card Trades With Giants Now Pay Off

By SHELDON SAKOWIT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three trades the St. Louis Cardinals made with the San Francisco Giants are starting to prove beneficial for the Red Birds with pitcher Ernie Broglio, first baseman Bill White and shortstop Daryl Spencer all figuring prominently in their 1961 National League pennant plans.

The trio started in the Cards' 2-1 exhibition baseball victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers at St. Petersburg Thursday. Broglio, a 21-game winner last season, just about clinched the opening day assignment by becoming the first St. Louis pitcher to go nine innings this spring.

The big right-hander allowed four hits, struck out four and walked four. The lone run off him came on Duke Snider's fourth-inning homer.

White, who batted .283 and slammed 16 home runs in 1960, collected two of the Red Birds' six hits. Spencer broke up the game with a ninth inning home run off veteran Don Newcombe, who is attempting a comeback with his old team. The lanky infielder was the first batter to face Newcombe in the ninth. Newcombe, who relieved starter Larry Sherry, gave up three hits in his three-inning stint.

Elsewhere along the exhibition trail Thursday: Minnesota edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3. New York nipped Detroit 5-4. Milwaukee trimmed Kansas City 8-2. Pittsburgh posted a 6-4 victory over Philadelphia. San Francisco turned back Boston 7-5. The Los Angeles Angels shaded Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League 3-2 and the Baltimore "B" squad edged Richmond of the International League 6-5. The game between the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland was canceled by wet grounds at Tucson.

Hal Naragon's three-run homer and Bob Allison's solo four-bagger triggered the Twins' conquest over the White Sox. Home runs by Deron Johnson and Jesse Gonder were the key blasts in the Yanks' win at the expense of the Tigers.

Billy Martin batted in five runs with a homer and two singles in the Braves' success over the A's. Joe Adcock also homered for Milwaukee. Dick Schofield's two-run homer in the eighth provided the winning margin for the Pirates against the Phils.

Willie Mays and rookie Tom Haller produced homers in the Giants' win over the Red Sox. Jackie Jensen of Boston was forced to retire with a pulled muscle in his right leg. The injury was believed not serious.

College Golf Meet Tied on Third Round

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Home-ro Blancas of Houston and Downing Gray of Florida State moved into the third round of the 72-hole All-America Intercollegiate Golf Tournament today sharing a two-stroke lead.

Blancas, a Houston junior who was a strong pretournament favorite, scored a par 72 Thursday for a 36-hole 143 that permitted him to catch the surprising Gray, who remained one under par despite a second round 75.

A four-under-par 68 for the 6,783-yard Pine Forest Country Club course earned Gray a three-stroke lead after Wednesday's opening round.

Entering the third round two strokes off the pace were Dickie Dible of Texas A&M with a 72-73-145 and Chris Blocker of Texas Tech with a 71-74-145.

Joel Goldstrand of Houston headed a five-way tie at 11. Goldstrand was the only player to break par Thursday, posting a three under 69 that enabled Houston to take the team medal lead at 597.

Houston also moved into the championship team match semifinals by defeating Texas A&M 5-1. North Texas defeated Florida 5-1 and Louisiana State defeated Alabama 4 1/2-1 1/2. Oklahoma State edged Florida State on medal scores, 302-306, while playing to a 3-3 tie.

Houston played Oklahoma State today and North Texas met Louisiana State.

North Texas State and Texas A&M shared second place in team medal play with 598. Next, in order, were Louisiana State 606, Oklahoma State and Florida State 607, Florida 612, New Mexico 611, Texas Tech and Wesleyan 632, Alabama and Baylor 626, Southern Methodist 629, Texas Wesleyan 632, Western Illinois 634, Stephen F. Austin (Texas) 644, Hardin-Simmons 650, Rice 651 and Yale 700.
